

SRVS 2007 Employee of the Year

Barbara Stafford

Night Monitor
Community Living I

Barbara is to be commended for her willingness to go the extra mile for her service recipients. We really appreciate her tireless efforts to make others happy despite her own personal challenges this year. She could very easily complain or say she is not up to the challenges, but she seems to be setting higher and higher goals to help where ever she is needed. No matter what time of day or night, she is always willing to go above and beyond what is expected.
